

Food Donations

We are so grateful you're thinking of us. Before you call please read the below to determine if your donation is something we can store and utilize.

We are unable to:

- Pick up any donations (We know, we know, it's disappointing but we don't have the staff power, insurance, nor vehicles to be able to do any pick-ups!)
- Accept donations outside of our normal kitchen hours (Monday through Friday, 8 to 4)

We cannot accept:

- Open products
- Prepared foods (cheese trays, vegetable trays, already cooked meals, etc.)
- Cans of food (exceptions: tomato products, beans, pumpkin puree, coconut milk) in addition, the cans must either be large (#10 cans) or full cases. NO INDIVIDUAL CANS
- Food that has been time/temperature abused

We can accept:

- Oils, vinegar, rice, dry pastas, grains, flours, sugar, salt, dried spices
- Raw whole produce (minimum 50 pounds) that will be good for at least 1 week
- Raw protein (minimum 100 pounds) that will be good for at least 1 week
- Cheese, must be vacuum sealed (minimum 20 pounds)

If you are unsure about a food donation please reach out to stephen@broadstreetministry.org.

We're grateful for your generosity, curiosity, and understanding!
